

The Prinz Law Office Announces New Quarterly Fractional Service Plans

The Prinz Law Office is pleased to announce the availability of new quarterly fractional service plans, effective immediately. The new fractional service plans are intended for the client who seeks to reserve the firm's time on defined terms without the commitment of exhausting the time reserved within a single calendar month. The new quarterly plans allow for ninety (90) days to utilize the reserved time instead of the usual thirty (30) day legal subscription periods, thereby providing clients with more flexibility in utilizing their subscription commitments. The quarterly plans start at just a ten (10) hour commitment, and increase at ten (10) hour increments above the minimum commitment. To learn more about the firm's fractional service plans, the firm' invites you to schedule a new client consultation today.
