

California Adopts Smartphone Killswitch Law

California has adopted a law that require smartphones sold in the state to have smartphone kill settings enabled as the default settings on the phone. The Silicon Valley Software Law Blog explores the impact of this legislation in the link set forth below:

<http://www.siliconvalleysoftwarelaw.com/california-adopts-smartphone-kill-switch-law>